Methodology

- India's Best Employers were selected through an independent study conducted on a broad sample of employees working in companies with at least 800 employees in India.
- The survey was conducted using several online access panels, ensuring a representative sample of employees in India. Each respondent was asked, in an open-ended question with an auto-complete option, to indicate the company or institution they work for. The study included companies from all sectors employing at least 800 people in India. To build the evaluated sample, the study included more than 800.000 employer evaluations.
- The final score is based on two types of evaluations: employees' willingness to recommend their own employer and their willingness to recommend other employers within the same industry in which they are currently employed. Greater weight is given to the willingness to recommend one's own employer.
- Completing the questionnaire took an average of 10–15 minutes.
